

I am Stella Wong. I study in Kwok Man School. I am in 6A.

One day , when I went home, I saw a burglar who broke into a flat in Mongkok. The burglar was a tall man with an eye mask. He was in a black shirt and purple trousers. He opened the window carefully. He took away a lot of reliable things. These included some expensive watches, two thousand and four hundred worth jewellery and a lot of money. He put these in a red bag.

When the burglar rushed out of the flat, some jewellery and money flew away. 'Oh, my god! I do not know how to climb down. Help! Help! Please help me.' He said. Then I called '999'. After some minutes, the police arrived. 'Please climb down. Please climb down.' The police said. 'I want to climb down, too, but I don't know how to climb down. Please help ma,' the burglar said. 'Will help you,' the police said. When the burglar climbed down, the police caught him and took him to the police station.
