

An Unforgettable Incident

I like playing computer games. I always play with my friends. I often play computer games at home or at my friend's home. I started playing computer games when I was six years old. I like playing computer games because it is fun.

I remember one time when I was playing computer games at home, I smelt some smoky taste. I found that my computer was on fire. I was scared, so I left my house. I used my mobile phone to call the police. After two minutes, the policemen and the fireman came. They put out the fire. Luckily, I was not hurt and only my computer was damaged.

This is an unforgettable incident. I will not computer games too long because the firemen said to me that the reason the computer was on fire was that I used the computer too long.