Dear Parents/Guardians,

First Term Exams

The First Term Examination for this academic year will be held from November 16 (Monday) to November 19 (Thursday). Please note that this examination also serves as the Internal Assessment for Secondary School Place Allocation (SSPA) for Primary 6 students.

Due to the splitting of General Studies into Humanities and Science for Primary 1, 2, 4, and 5 this school year, the examination dates and timetable differ from previous years. In addition, the Chinese and English Speaking assessments and Putonghua Oral test will be conducted during regular class periods in the 11th week. Please refer to the back page for student guidelines during the examination period and the arrangements for uploading past examination papers (2024–2025 and 2025–2026) to eClass.

We hope parents will cooperate with the school to supervise and encourage their children to revise thoroughly. Below are the examination details for your reference:

*To help P1 students adapt to the assessment, teachers will read the questions and choices of the paper aloud.

In addition, according to the Education Bureau’s Primary School Curriculum Guidelines, schools should provide a wide variety of assessments for Primary One students. Therefore, Primary One students will not be ranked in the three assessments this year. That is, the academic transcript will only show the scores of each subject to reduce the stress of students stemming from the assessments.

Notes for the students during the exams

A. Exam venue discipline

Students must take the exams according to the timetable set by the school.

No extra time will be given if students arrive at school late without a valid reason.

Early leave will not be permitted if no special reasons are given.

Students will sit according to their class numbers. The seats will be rearranged in single rows.

The students are prohibited to talk with their classmates during the exam. If there are any questions, students can ask the teachers.

B. The makeup exams and checking of exam papers

Absentees will take the makeup exams on 20/11, 21/11 and 24/11; the marks obtained will not be deducted. If students cannot take the exam on the above dates, the final result will be calculated using the other two terms only.

The exam papers will be checked on 25/11 and 26/11. For P.1 to P.5 students, they should take the exam papers home for their parents to sign after checking. The exam papers should be returned to subject teachers the next day.

C. Internal Assessments for Secondary School Places Allocation

Unless there are special reasons, sixth-grade students are not allowed to be absent from this examination; the scores from this exam need to be submitted to the Education Bureau's Secondary School Places Allocation Section. If a student is unable to return to school for a makeup exam on the specified date, parents must submit a written application with sufficient reasons, so that our school can apply to the Education Bureau's Secondary School Places Allocation Section for an extension for that student's score submission.

The exam papers will not be returned and will be kept by the school.

D. Arrangement for bad weather

If the Education Bureau announces all primary schools closed in the morning due to a typhoon or other bad weather, the exams will be postponed to the next day.

Arrangements for uploading of Year 24-25 and 25-26 exam papers onto eClass

The exam papers and suggested answers for the Chinese Reading (and Listening), General English and Writing, Mathematics and General Studies will be uploaded onto eClass by 12/10.

Parents and students can download the exam papers by following the steps below:

1. Log onto eClass with student identity.
2. Enter 'Classroom Area'
3. Click 'Shared Files'
4. Click 'Public Files'
5. Click 'Past Papers'
6. Choose 'English', 'Chinese', 'Maths' or 'General Studies/Science/Humanities' folder
7. Click on the past exam papers that you want to read (PDF format)

Since the syllabus may not be the same every year, the past papers in the previous two years may not have the same coverage.
