Dear Parents/Guardians,

Second Term Exams

The Second Term Examination is scheduled from 6th March (Fri) to 11th March (Wed). Please note this is a critical examination for Primary Six students as the result will be used for secondary school application. The timetable differs from past years because P1 and P4's General Studies is now split into Humanities and Science. Additionally, all Chinese, English Speaking, and Putonghua Oral tests will be held in-class during Week 27.

We urge all parents to ensure their children study diligently. Further details about student guidelines and the eClass paper upload schedule are available on the back page.

*To help P1 students adapt to the assessment, teachers will read the questions and choices of the paper aloud.

In addition, according to the Education Bureau's Primary School Curriculum Guidelines, schools should provide a wide variety of assessments for Primary One students. Therefore, Primary One students will not be ranked in the three assessments this year. That is, the academic transcript will only show the scores of each subject to reduce the stress of students stemming from the assessments.

Notes for the students during the exams

A. Exam venue discipline

Students must take the exams according to the timetable set by the school.

No extra time will be given if students arrive at school late without a valid reason.

Early leave will not be permitted if no special reasons are given.

Students will sit according to their class numbers. The seats will be rearranged in single rows.

The students are prohibited to talk with their classmates during the exam. If there are any questions, students can ask the teachers.

B. The makeup exams and checking of exam papers

Absentees will take the makeup exams on 12/3, 13/3 and 16/3; the marks obtained will not be deducted. If students cannot take the exam on the above dates, the final result will be calculated using the other two terms only.

The exam papers will be checked on 17/3 and 18/3. For P.1 to P.5 students, they should take the exam papers home for their parents to sign after checking. The exam papers should be returned to subject teachers the next day.

C. Internal Assessments for Secondary School Places Allocation

Unless there are special reasons, sixth-grade students are not allowed to be absent from this examination; the scores from this exam need to be submitted to the Education Bureau's Secondary School Places Allocation Section. If a student is unable to return to school for a makeup exam on the specified date, parents must submit a written application with sufficient reasons, so that our school can apply to the Education Bureau's Secondary School Places Allocation Section for an extension for that student's score submission.

The exam papers will not be returned and will be kept by the school.

D. Arrangement for bad weather

If the Education Bureau announces all primary schools closed in the morning due to a typhoon or other bad weather, the exams will be postponed to the next day.

Arrangements for uploading of Year 23-24 and 24-25 exam papers onto eClass

The exam papers and suggested answers for the Chinese Reading (and Listening), General English and Writing, Mathematics and General Studies will be uploaded onto eClass before 9/2. Parents and students can download the exam papers by following the steps below:

1. Log onto eClass with student identity.
2. Enter 'Classroom Area'
3. Click 'Shared Files'
4. Click 'Public Files'
5. Click 'Past Papers'
6. Choose 'English', 'Chinese', 'Maths' or 'General Studies' folder
7. Click on the past exam papers that you want to read (PDF format)

Since the syllabus may not be the same every year, the past papers in the previous two years may not have the same coverage.
